"The Entomologist"

"The Entomologist" is a new statue on the campus of Purdue University in West Lafayette, IN, created by artist Susie Chrisholm, from Savannah, GA. The sculpture of three individuals observing a tiger swallowtail butterfly represents one of the primary missions of a land-grant university - providing education to the public.

Dave's Soapbox

When his parents learned 'June' was going to the University of Illinois to study bugs, they wondered how he could make a living at it. Isn't that what most people think today? Very few realize Entomology is one of the most profitable and interesting vocations in the field of Agriculture and basic sciences.

Dedication of "The Entomologist" sculpture at Purdue

Purdue University sculpture honors legacy of pioneering entomologists. Speakers are Jay Akridge, Glenn W. Sample Dean of Agriculture; Stephen Cameron, Head and Professor of Purdue Entomology; Dave Mueller, Purdue Entomology alumnus and founder of Insects Limited; and artist Suzie Chisholm from Savannah, Ga.

Rodent Academy

As declared by Rick Simeone, the Director of the Department of Pest Control for New York City, "It's science. It just comes down to science." I was fortunate enough to attend the NYC Rodent Academy hosted by the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene in May. Let me tell you, that statement holds true.
